

Westerly's Lincoln Day Committee

Effects Organization—Will Act in Conjunction with G. A. R.
 Posts—Talk of Judge Sweeney for Superior Court
 Bench—Anonymous Letters Cause Family Jars—
 Death of Gideon P. Chesebro.

Judge John W. Sweeney of Westerly is mentioned for the superior court bench in the event of a vacancy that may occur at an early date. Judge Tanner's election to the presiding judgeship of the superior court, and Judge Mumford's overwhelming defeat for the place has revived the rumor that the latter intends resigning from the bench and entering private practice. Some of the fifteen who voted for Judge Mumford feel aggrieved, and declare that Frank W. Tillingshast, who is said to have been managing Judge Mumford's campaign, should not have permitted his name to be presented. There are some who aver that it is part of a scheme to secure a second vacancy by causing Judge Mumford to become so disgusted as to resign during the present session of the general assembly.

Judge Sweeney is serving his sixteenth year as clerk of the senate committee on judiciary and stands close to the powers that be in republican politics. He is a strong factor in Westerly politics, has a wide legal practice, and has been repeatedly mentioned as a proper candidate for a place on the light court whenever any vacancy has occurred.

Effort is being made to locate a Portuguese vice consul in Providence. Representative Granger, who has had conference with Viscount de Alente, the Portuguese minister to the United States, relative to the matter, and has also written to the minister of foreign affairs at Lisbon on the subject. The minister has urged upon his government the advisability of establishing a consulate at Providence and the matter is awaiting the action of the foreign office.

So far as can be ascertained there is not a Portuguese family in Westerly, although there are about 10,000 Portuguese in Rhode Island, and these are forced to go to Fall River or New Bedford to obtain the service of a consul from their native country.

The resolution of Senator Louis F. Arnold, providing for an appropriation of $500 for installing shower baths in the state armory in Westerly, was taken up for consideration at Friday's session. Senator Arnold stated that the measure was introduced by the quartermaster general and adjutant general. He said that it was his aim as chairman of the committee on finance to see that every bill going for an appropriation should be thoroughly understood by the members. The resolution was passed without debate.

Thomas E. Robinson of Westerly has been elected president of the Rhode Island Veterinary Medical association. In annual meeting. The other officers are: L. T. Dunn, Providence, first vice president; G. L. Salisbury, Wickford, second vice president; J. S. Polard and J. T. Cunningham of Providence, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

In the third district court, Judge Oliver H. Williams, in the case of Oliver H. Williams vs. Arthur D. James, a motion for a bill of particulars, made by Dixon & Rathbun for defendant, was granted over a week ago. The bill to be filed by Wednesday noon of last week. At the regular session of court Friday, it was learned that none had been filed, but Judge Rathbun said that Judge Sweeney, for the plaintiff, had handed him a statement designed to answer the order of the court, but it was not submitted for the court's consideration. He asked for opportunity to argue the matter. As Judge Sweeney was not present, the case was continued for argument, Saturday morning.

When court came in for the special purpose of hearing the arguments in the case Saturday morning, Clarence Roche of Judge Sweeney's office informed the court that it was impossible for Mr. Sweeney to be in court as he was engaged elsewhere. The case was continued to next Friday.

John J. Dunn of Westerly, secretary of the state board of agriculture, has completed arrangements for the farmers' institute in Providence, February 10 and 11. The exercises will begin Wednesday afternoon, and Governor Fether will be present at the opening session. Addresses are to be made by A. E. Stone on insect pests and the Orchard, Dr. H. J. Wheeler of Rhode Island college on soil propagation, and G. C. Sevey of Springfield will speak on Opportunities of New England Farmers.

In the evening the programme will be as follows: Economical Dairy Feeding by H. O. Daniels of Middle town, Conn.; The Cow's Bread and Butter Question, by H. S. Manchester of Winsted, Conn.; and Producing and Handling Milk for the Family Trade, by J. Lewis Ellisworth, secretary of Massachusetts state board of agriculture.

The Thursday addresses will be on Poultry Raising by Daniel K. Lambert of Rhode Island college; Native Birds Illustrated, by Prof. E. H. Forbush of Boston, representative of the national association of Audubon societies; and Practical Poultry Raising, by Sylvia B. Steere of Cheshire.

Each address will be followed by a general discussion of the subject presented and questions will be provided. Effort is being made to secure motion pictures of stock yard scenes as an extra entertainment feature. Louis G. E. Clarke of Cumberland will sing and recite at intervals.

J. L. Sherman and William Williams of the state board of agriculture and Dr. Howard Edwards of the Rhode Island college will be the presiding officers.

Indoor rifle practice will soon be taken up by all organizations of the Rhode Island national guard. All practice by headquarters and companies of the First and Second artillery districts, stationed in Providence, Pawtucket, Woonsocket, and Riverpoint, will be under the supervision of the ordnance officers of these districts. Practice of the Fifth company of Westerly will be under the supervision of First Lieut. Arthur N. Nash, battalion adjutant, and that of the First squadron of cavalry under the supervision of Inspector of small arms practice.

All officers and enlisted men in the Rhode Island national guard are expected to qualify on the indoor range, and the points necessary for qualification are: Standing 15, prone 17, total 32.

According to the January report, the strength of the Rhode Island national guard is just 1,100 men.

evening last week she proceeded to the appointed place. The other woman made like resolve, and, unfortunately, on the same night. Naturally, the two women met, each suspecting the other of seeking clandestine meeting with hubby. It was a piercing glance, a word or two, and the women flew at each other like the traditional Kilkenny cats. They clawed each other until the larger of the two women started on a lively run for her run with the victor not far behind.

Prior to this occasion one of the letters had been handed to Officer Carey and he had succeeded in locating the young mischief-makers, and had reprimanded them in such a way that there will be no more letter writing of that nature. The officer explained the matter to the belligerent women, and they were not slow on showering apologies on each other, while the two husbands went to the club room to celebrate the happy ending.

The local committee appointed by President William L. Clarke, to co-operate in the observance of the Lincoln centenary and the preservation of the Lincoln farm, met in the Memorial building Saturday evening, and organized for the election of Ethan Wilcox chairman, Rev. Joseph L. Peacock secretary and Everett E. Whipple, treasurer.

It was decided best to co-operate with the two Grand Army posts in observance of the day, as these organizations were preparing for the event under orders from the national department. The committee will render every possible assistance to the civil war veterans, will meet again to ascertain the wishes of the Grand Army posts and will act in accordance therewith.

Gideon P. Chesebro died Friday evening of heart disease, after a brief illness, in his 88th year. Mr. Chesebro was born in the town of Stonington and lived there nearly all his life. He was a successful farmer, and was known to the Pawtucket district about nine years ago, and during that period was seen almost daily in the streets of Westerly, being unusually active in early life he was a teacher, and later a farmer. He was for many years a member of Calvary Baptist church in Westerly. Mr. Chesebro was a life-long democrat and took active interest in politics. He is survived by one son and five daughters: Gideon P. Chesebro, Jr., of New London; Misses Nancy and Jacoba, of Westerly; Mrs. Richard H. Mo., Mrs. Eugene Palmer of Stonington and Mrs. John B. Dauchy of New York.

Local Laocenes. Michael Clancy is seriously ill at his home in Granite street. Alexander Aitken returned Saturday evening from the Rhode Island hospital, where he was successfully operated upon for appendicitis.

The Catholic churches of the Providence diocese contributed $4,823.14 to the Italian relief fund. Of this sum, $36.35 was from the church of the Immaculate Conception in Westerly.

Bridgeport.—A new order for Odd Fellows lodge No. 10, formed in Bridgeport for those Odd Fellows residing in this section of the state. This order will be a "Side Degree" and will hold the same relation to the order that the "Shrine" does to the Masonic fraternity.

Westport.—Frederick Gerhardt, who returned from Alaska last week, is entertaining his friends with his experiences.

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS. After Other Remedies Fail. "I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 732-8th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.
